June 2017

2017 JPOL CHAMPIONS OF SPRING

The 5th Annual Junior Premier Outdoor League (JPOL) came to a close on June 4th and we would now like to recognize and celebrate all of the victors and show our appreciation to all participants, supporters, volunteers and sponsors.

This year began a new site in Region 4 and thus we welcome clubs from New York and Canada to the JPH family.

After several league dates of competitive field hockey, we can truly say that the benefits of participation and growing the game can be attested by many throughout the nation. The improvements in the quality of games from the first weekend in April to the various Championships is commendable and reflects the commitment of the players, parents, coaches, umpires, technical staff and many others.

The continued success of this League would not be possible without the support of many who tirelessly give of their time and experience. Much appreciation to the club directors, coaches and their membership who join us each spring to make this league possible. Many thanks to the Umpire Managers (UMs) and Technical Directors (TDs) and their staff of dedicated Technical Officers (TO), Umpires and parent Judges. You all give so much of you time and talent to be part of this event and its continued successes.

Special thanks to our JPH Directors, Lurah Hess – Technical Director, Dean Wenrich – Director of Umpiring and Kim Scott – AltiusRT Director who contribute countless hours of dedication behind the scenes to help make JPOL the event it has become to date.

Recognition must also be given to the College and University coaches who took the time to be present. We hope that you were pleased with the level of competition and the organization of the event. Those in attendance that we were aware of represented the following establishments:

American International College, Cazenovia College, Colgate University, College of William & Mary, DePauw University, Duke University, Duke University, Elmira College, Gwynedd Mercy University, Hartwick College, Houghton College, Indiana University, Lafayette College, Lock Haven University, LIU Brooklyn, Monmouth University, Rowan University, Rider University, Skidmore College, Saint Francis University, Saint John Fisher College, Saint Lawrence University, Stonehill College, SUNY New Paltz, Syracuse University, University of Iowa, University of Maine, University of Pennsylvania, Virginia Commonwealth University, William Smith College, And others whom we may have missed.

Much appreciation to the Universities and private institutions for granting us access and use of its facilities year after year. We hope to continue developing great relationships with you all. Thank You!

Special recognition to World Camp USA & Sport EuroTour - our Title Sponsor, Dita USA - the Official Ball Supplier and Harrow - the Official Awards Sponsor. Thank you for your continued support and believing in this event!

To USA FH and Staff who worked closely with JPH throughout the season, we appreciate the continued support shown in working together for the good of the sport and your membership. We thank you and look forward to building and strengthening our relationship as a sanctioned event, that benefits the membership and at the same time helping to growing the sport by creating opportunities.

We would now like to recognize and congratulate the 2017 Champions and Special Award recipients from each of the participating Regions for an outstanding performance.
